To Whom It May Concern:

My name is Don M. Weiss, and I am a doctor of chiropractic. I have been in private practice since 1984. I have been using Neuromodulation Technique in my practice for over two years, and find this technique to be extremely valuable for my patients.

Some of the conditions that have responded to NMT have been various types of pain conditions – shoulder impingement syndrome, neck and back pain associated with disc protrusions, ligamentous injuries in the knee, tendonitis of the elbow, pain associated with arthritic degenerative changes in the spine as well as in the extremities. I have seen very positive changes with acute and chronic infections, blood disorders, acne, allergies, multiple chemical sensitivity patients, digestive problems, relief from many symptoms associated with multiple sclerosis (blurred vision, normalization of gait, decreased numbness, loss of pain and numbness in the extremities), eye infections, ear infections, toxic issues, etc.

Dr. Leslie Feinberg teaches NMT using the NMT Seminar Manual to teach each module. I have found that the NMT system works as disclosed in its reference materials, and is very useful in treating patients.

Three years ago my wife was diagnosed with multiple sclerosis. Initially she had severe pain, numbness and loss of lower extremity muscle function. She had been treated medically for the acute inflammatory process with steroids. After a brief stay in the hospital she was left with severe atrophy of the quadriceps, hamstrings, and lower leg muscles. She had gone through exercise rehab and was taking meds for her pain. I worked with her with various rehabilitative techniques for about a year with some success.

In my search to heal my wife I came across information about Neuromodulation Technique. I took both the Comprehensive and Advanced training with Dr. Feinberg. Upon incorporating NMT protocols into my practice, I began to see marked improvement in both my wife's condition as well as for many patients in my office with various conditions.

My wife has been coordinating a party for indigent children that involves over two hundred volunteers over the last eleven years and has not missed one year during that time. This year there were five hundred children in attendance and she was stronger than ever.

She can attest to the power of NMT. In many cases, it is very powerful, rapid and effective.

After my first NMT seminar, a patient of mine presented with severe pain in her eye, and relayed to me that she was unable to read due to loss of vision in one eye. She had gone to an ophthalmologist who wanted her to take antibiotics and steroids. He told her that if she didn't take the steroids she would lose her vision. His evaluation rating was an "8" in severity on a 1 to 10 scale. The patient comes from a natural healing background and preferred not to take steroids if at all possible. She asked me if I could help and I told her I would try NMT.

I used NMT as taught in the manual. The evaluation revealed there were infections in the eye, and I proceeded to follow NMT protocol. By the end of our 15 minute visit, 90% of her pain was gone. When she returned for a follow-up visit in two days she presented, with a very red eye. I treated her again using the NMT protocols. In a couple of days all her pain was gone, as was all the redness in her eye. I asked her to follow-up with her ophthalmologist. He could not understand how the patient was able to improve without taking the medications.

The patient returned in two months. She had been seeing her eye doctor, and her eye continued to improve. Her 1 to 10 rating was now a "1". However, she was still unable to read. I asked her to read a chart on the wall and she was unable to see any words with one eye, but noticed more clarity with her peripheral vision. I again treated her with NMT protocols, and in fifteen minutes asked her to read the chart. She said she noticed some improved clarity and could make out some of the words.

I did not see the patient for a few more months. When she returned she reported that she could read and that her vision had returned to normal.

Neuromodulation Technique is a very effective technique in addressing many types of health conditions. These are just two examples of many that have shown significant improvement without any invasive treatment.

Sincerely,

Don M. Weiss, D.C.
